

BETTER BATHROOMS & KITCHENS

NATURAL BEAUTY

CURVES IN ALL THE RIGHT PLACES

The owners of this home wanted a family-friendly, functional kitchen with cabinetry that looked and felt more like furniture. They imagined an inviting yet practical space, with a place for everything.

Working in conjunction with the clients, Garrett Hebden from Better Bathrooms & Kitchens used his 25 years of industry experience to create an ingeniously designed kitchen, combining the beauty of natural materials with thoughtful design.

Incorporating the kitchen working triangle principle, the design places everything needed at hand, creating a space that is a pleasure to work in. As well as the main kitchen area with an abundance of bench space and ample storage, the design also features a large butler's pantry.

The furniture-like cabinetry features in-frame Milton American oak doors in both a clear polish and 'Wattle Sweeney'. With practicality in mind, each cabinet's internal hardware has been carefully considered in relation to its position and function. Gothic pewter bow handles provide the finishing touch.

Gracefully curving granite benchtops complement the unique curves of the cabinetry. The hard-wearing granite has also been used as the splashback, complemented by the Cerdomus Pietra D'assisi flooring in 'Noce'.

Since its establishment in 1999, Better Bathrooms & Kitchens' aim has been to provide the Victorian market with top-quality bespoke kitchens, never compromising on materials or craftsmanship.

The company is experienced in all styles, from timeless period designs to the ultra-modern, offering the latest in European design and materials. The Better Bathrooms & Kitchens team takes into consideration all of the aspects of truly unique, high-quality kitchen furniture, designing your dream kitchen around your needs.

Better Bathrooms & Kitchens has been recognised for its exceptional work, receiving many accolades over the years, including being a recent winner, runner-up and finalist at the Housing Industry Association (HIA) awards for Victorian kitchens and bathrooms.

AN ENGLISH MANOR

TIMELESS DESIGN

Elegantly blending the warmth of American black walnut with luxurious Carrara marble, Better Bathrooms & Kitchens has created a timeless kitchen that sits perfectly within this period home.

The clients approached Better Bathrooms & Kitchens wanting a classic English-style kitchen to complement their home. It needed to be practical, with a seating/meals option for the family and a look that would blend with the adjacent family area.

Set in a solid timber frame, this manor house-inspired kitchen has a classic in-frame design that lends streamlined sophistication to this timeless space. The exposed-hinge doors feature painted Milton American oak and Jasper clear-polished walnut. Hanson polished chrome pulls and knobs provide the finishing touch.

The curves of the cabinetry give greater storage by allowing full use of the kitchen, especially the island bench, where all sides can be used for storage. The curved cupboards also cleverly conceal electrical power points. Keeping practical storage in mind, two pull-out racks – one for spice and one for bottles – have been placed next to the Falcon stove.

For the benchtops, honed Carrara marble is accented by American black walnut feature pieces. Combining the two natural materials prevents the timber dominating the space and making it look to 'heavy'.
