

EXPERT TIP
Mirrored splashbacks are good for creating the illusion of a bigger space.

FORM AND FLOW

"The light in this kitchen cuts neatly through the space to establish a clean and contemporary area. Open at both ends, the spacious galley-style kitchen carries momentum and functionality through the core of this home. Quantum Quartz tops the lengthy island bench, with Smartstone's Milan collection Petra Grigio benching around the stovetop and in the hidden appliance sill. Polished timber flooring creates a light, textured complement to the Polytec Ravine Black wenge cabinetry, grounding the modern culinary zone in natural, warming tones. For all its aesthetic advantages, this kitchen does not skimp on practicality. A built-in appliance cupboard, upright utensils drawer and tip-on overhead cupboards are typical of the ease and organisation afforded by the floor-to-ceiling cabinetry. Bar stools make things social and offer a front-row seat to a suite of stainless-steel kitchen tech, which includes a Qasair twin motor rangehood to match the twin pyrolytic duo ovens from Electrolux. Subtly separated by a feature divider from the connecting living space, this bright and airy kitchen is the ideal space for the lucky family residing here."
