

Quality craftsmanship

What is truly special about this kitchen by Better Bathrooms & Kitchens is its warm and inviting feel combined with careful attention to detail

The task lights in the cabinetry and traditional pendant lighting in a pewter finish create a warm sense of ambience and theme.

This renovation transformed blackwood to a light, fresh, classic theme using Farmers hand finishes available in six beautiful hand finished coffee tones.

With an initial blackwood kitchen space that had a heavy feel to it, designer Garrett Hebden set out to rejuvenate the kitchen by using a lighter colour scheme and detailed finishing touches. In order to blend in with the rest of the charming Victorian home's interior, Hebden needed to update the kitchen area while continuing on with the home's special old-world feel. By adding features reminiscent of a bygone era such as a Shaws fireclay sink, Perrin & Rowe tapware and traditional pendant lighting in a pewter finish, the desired nostalgic look was achieved with the benefit of contemporary function.

Additional design considerations for the project were to incorporate a French provincial-style kitchen with strong elements of efficiency and state-of-the-art mechanisms. In light of this, Hettich Innotech mechanisms were used on the corner bank of the full-extension soft-close drawers and all internal hardware. Illustrating that the finer points of design can truly transform a tired kitchen into a new-age beauty, Better Bathrooms & Kitchens knows how to make interior household hubs better and better.
